Dear Jerry:

Many thanks for your kind comments about my participation in the Advertising Council Conference.

I thoroughly enjoyed this particular session and I am glad to learn from you that the Conference was such a success. Needless to say, I am highly pleased to get President Eisenhower's thanks which you were so thoughtful to pass along to me.

With every best wish.

Sincerely,

AWD

Dear Allen:

From the many complimentary reports coming in, our conference for the Advertising Council last week was a tremendous success.

The President wanted me to send you his thanks -- to which I would like to add my own -- for the fine contribution you made to the conference. We certainly appreciate your taking the time to participate in it.

With warm personal regards,

Sincerely yours,
